Firm Updates

This summer we've been helping co-teach the Entrepreneurial Lawyering: Solo & Small Firm Practice course at UMKC School of Law. We took the course when we were students in 2013 and were so excited to have the honor to return to help students that are interested in opening their own law firms. Last week, the students presented their business plans in our final class for the summer. We have no doubt that all of the students will go on to do great things!
